MEDICINAL.

THE JUDGE OF HANOVER

Tim. Howard suffered for three years with lung and throat troubles, and last string was thought by his neighbors to lying. I heard of his condition and gave him A. B. C. Tonic. Its effect was migical. In a very short time he was ab a to leave his bed, and now regards hir self a well man. Others in this vicinity have taken the "Tonic" with pronounced benefit.

The operation of making matches from a pine log may be divided into four heads: viz, preparing the splints, dippleg the matches, bex making and filling. When the timber is brought into the cutting room of the factory it is seized upon by a gang of men, who place it before a circular saw, where it is out into blocks 15 inches long, which is the length of seven matches. It is then freed of its bark and taken to the turning lathe, where, by means of a special form of fixed cutting band running its entire length, a continuous piece, the thickness of ameter, the knife advances, and a band of veneer of uniform thickness is obtained. As the veneer rolls off the knife it is met by eight small knives which cut it into seven match, are obtained. These are then broken into pieces six feet long, the knotty parts removed, and they are then fed into a machine which looks and acts like a straw chopper, which cuts them into single matches. The machine eats 150 bands at the same time, and a mechanical device pushes them forward the thickness of a match at each stroke of the cutter. This little machine with its one sharp knife can cut over 10,000,000 matches a day.

others as to cause the mixture to clot the machine, which seems to work with almost burnan intelligence, and are caught up and placed closely but at regular intervals in a dipping frame. These frames contain 44 50 splints, making over 2,000 splints in each frame. The heads of the splints are all on the same level, and a single attendant at each machine can place over one million splints in the frame per day. The dipping vat is a stove of masonry, which contains three the splints so they will absord the mixture, the second contains molten paraffine in dipped by a skillful workman in one day. After the dipping process the matches are Steam Flooring & Planing Mill taken to the packing room, where they are not into boxes by hand.

As the block revolves and decreases in di-cut over 10,000,000 matches a day.

From the cutting room the splints are taken to the dry room, where they are placed in revolving drums, which absorb all the moisture the splints may contain. They are then prepared for the dipping process, which is a very important operation, as each which is a very important operation, as each splint must have sufficient space to be fully coated and yet not placed so close to the heads of the other splints. To do this they are placed under an ingeniously constructed movable laths, and between each lath the machine places with clock-work regularity square pans. The first pan is for heating which the points are dipped, and in the third they are costed with the igniting composition. Over 8,000,000 matches can be dried while still in the frames and are then STRUCK BLIND .- A special from Charlotte, N. C., says : A singular calamity is reported from Steel Creek township, in this county.

Mrs. Margaret Miller, an excellent lady of that section, was suddenly struck blind last week. She was sitting in her room, when all of a sudden she discovered that she was looking out of but one eye, just as if she had closed the other one. She knew such was not the case and arcse to leave the room. Hardly had she done so when she realized that the sight of the other was likewise gone. She uttered a cry of horror at the idea of her great loss, and some of her household rushed in. She was led to a seat
